Instructions:

- With scissors trim the flaps off the top and bottom of a snack box leaving two side flaps on top to be used later.
- Measure the snack box with a ruler, and then cut out the corresponding size of blue construction paper to cover all sides of the snack box.
- Measure and cut out three wide strips of white paper each 2 inches by 12 inches.
- Measure and cut out eight small narrow strips of white paper each 1/2 inches by 6 inches.
- Fold the wide white strips of paper into thirds. Draw a star on one side of the paper and cut the star out, giving you three stars. Repeat.
- Cover the surface of the snack box with the glue stick and place the pre-cut blue construction paper on top. Press firmly. Repeat on all sides of the snack box.
- Glue two stars and four narrow strips on the large side of the snack box. Glue three stars on the narrow side of the snack box.
- Flip the snack box over and repeat the pattern. Trim the excess paper hanging off the snack box.
- For this next step you can use red construction paper or a red Appleton bag. Cut out one long strip for a handle, and then cut strips in even intervals.
- Use tape to attach the red strips to the inside bottom of the snack box. Place around the snack box evenly.
- Use the remaining strips to cover the side flaps of the snack box. Secure with the glue stick. Trim the excess paper as needed.
- With tape attach the remaining long strip to both flaps of the snack box to create a handle.
- Now you have a patriotic streamer!
